Gain International Work Experience in China

The CLI Internship
Join the CLI team this upcoming summer and gain international work experience in the beautiful southern city of Guilin, China. CLI interns engage in a dynamic range of projects:

• Establish new relationships with American faculty
• Recruit students via CLI’s online marketing network
• Teach CLI’s local team English and Western cultural norms
• Create blog posts highlighting various aspects of life in China

What is CLI?
The Chinese Language Institute (CLI) is a China-based center for language and cultural studies that hosts hundreds of students from around the world each year. CLI offers intensive Chinese language programs, college study abroad opportunities, and a variety of China study tour experiences. The organization was founded by two American brothers in early 2009 and currently occupies its own 5-story learning center.

Program Dates and Fees
The CLI Internship Program lasts for a minimum of four weeks and can begin on any Monday of the year. The program fee, which includes housing, utilities, a comprehensive training program, and ten hours of Chinese lessons per week, is $1760 per month. Please contact intern@studycli.org to learn more.

“The CLI internship gave me a huge boost both personally and professionally. At 21 years old, I’ve lived in China and can speak basic Mandarin, and my résumé includes international marketing experience. I couldn’t be more pleased with the experience.”
– Jason Rogers, Summer 2012

“In today’s increasingly globalized world, CLI’s marketing internship provided me with invaluable international experience and the opportunity to excel in my field of study. The internship met and exceeded all my expectations.”
– Alex Gavis, Summer 2012
